

Biography

John Merkley, AuD

LTC Merkley is an occupational and clinical Audiologist with over 22 years of experience in national and international workplaces. His experience includes small clinic management to strategic oversight and responsibility for large multi-clinic regions. His presentation experience includes podium, poster, and full workshop presentations at national and international conferences on topics including hearing health education, process improvement, and management of workplace hearing injuries. LTC Merkley holds a Master of Science in Communicative Disorders from Utah State University and Doctor of Audiology from Central Michigan University. He is certified as a Course Director and Professional Supervisor by the Council for Accreditation in Occupational Hearing Conservation and holds the Certificate of Clinical Competence in Audiology from the American Speech-Language Hearing Association. You can contact LTC Merkley via email: john.a.merkley.mil@mail.mil.